The Minister writes...

Dear friends,

It's hard to imagine that only a month ago events were being cancelled or postponed because of the unseasonal snow and now we're basking in midsummer temperatures. I guess it proves that British weather is still as changeable as it ever was! Personally, I'm hoping to see a little more of spring before we get the paddling pools and suntan lotion out and declare a heat wave and a hosepipe ban. In any event we shouldn't get carried away with thoughts of an early summer just yet. As the old adage goes, 'Ne'er cast a clout till May be out.'

Change is the defining characteristic of this time of year, both in nature and in the church calendar. Our festivals and special dates echo what was happening in the disciples' lives in that first post-Easter period. Though the joy of resurrection was still with them, they were coming to terms with what that actually meant. Jesus appeared to them on a number of occasions but he was no longer present on a daily basis and soon he would leave them and return to his Father, an event we recall as Ascension Day, this year falling on 10th May. They were told to wait in Jerusalem for the coming of the Holy Spirit. Wait they did, but hardly in eager anticipation, more in fear and trembling. Yet, despite the locked doors, the Holy Spirit came and nothing, nothing, was ever the same again.

On that feast of Pentecost, the apostles were empowered to preach, teach and even perform miracles. The Christian Church was born (although it would be a while before it was called that) and it grew exponentially. It was a time of excitement and wonder - and danger and challenge – a time when the gifts of the Spirit were poured out on all believers.

It's a festival we will celebrate on 20th May with talk of tongues of fire and no doubt some rousing hymns.....but beyond that....? I think sometimes we're guilty of putting the events of Pentecost into an historical context and thinking that those gifts and that empowering were only for that time and the purpose of establishing the early church and bear no relevance for our church today.

Yet never has the established church in Britain been more in need of the power of the Holy Spirit to re-ignite the flame. We live in a society for whom the church is largely irrelevant. (That's not true for all, of course, but it is for many.) It's painful for us to acknowledge that, but we need to if we are to change things and reach the community we serve with the gospel message – which will always be relevant but may not be heard unless we get it out there.

How do we do that? Well, it starts with prayer and on the next page there is information about 'Thy Kingdom Come,' a joint Anglican-Methodist prayer initiative. It encompasses the time between Ascension and Pentecost and it asks of us just this: to pray for five people to come to know the love of Jesus Christ:

to pray for them daily, faithfully and with the expectancy that God will answer and act. That's it. As simple as that – and as powerful as that.

So let's start changing things, one prayer and one person at a time, through the power of God's Holy Spirit. Are you up for it?!

Yours in anticipation,

Sharon

Club 15 Theatre visit

“All My Sons” by Arthur Miller Electric Theatre, Guildford

Fourteen Club 15 members were booked to see “All My Sons” by Arthur Miller at the Electric , Guildford but sadly three had to drop out with illness, etc which was a shame because they missed a gripping, tragic story which was presented superbly by the amateur Guildbury Theatre cast (www.guildburys.com/about-us/) .

“All My Sons” is family drama at its best: gripping and powerful, and written by one of the greatest playwrights of the 20th Century. It is based on the question - if you had a secret that could tear your life and family apart would you keep it hidden?

Joe Keller is a successful businessman who lives with his wife Kate and son Chris in late-1940s suburban America. Their only sadness, it seems, is the loss of their other son Larry, who went missing in World War II. After three years, Kate still clings to the hope that her son is alive. However the fragile family calm is ripped apart with the arrival of an unexpected visitor. Deep wounds are opened and the family has to confront the truth behind their otherwise comfortable lives. Exploring the dark side of the American Dream, it's a story that remains relevant to our modern world.

On the basis of this production if there is a chance to see the Guildbury Theatre again in the future it is highly recommended to do so.

Graham Fradgley

Praise and Prayer

We meet on 2nd Tuesday of the month, led by Frankie. This month we were still looking at the Easter story and had various readings and poems relating to that topic. Some were humorous and some serious, so we had a good mixture. We had Wordsworth's poem about the daffodils, a children's poem about Easter bunnies and eggs, which brought in the real meaning of Easter; a reading from Helen Steiner Rice, another about flowers plus a few others.

Frankie closed the meeting with a reading by Peter Marshall (a Scot, who, many years ago, was chaplain to the Senate in USA) relating to Matthew's gospel chapter 28. We had some rousing hymns, which we managed to sing really well, despite there only being 9 of us there!

Sonia was missed today; she is a regular attender, so we all signed Get Well cards for both Sonia and Ian who are both in Frimley Park Hospital. Get well both of you. We had a few regulars missing today because of illness - hope you are all feeling better - and we look forward to seeing you next month.

We thought of many people during our time of prayer and lifted them up to the Lord.

After a cup of tea (or coffee) and biscuits, ably done by stand-ins Joan and Sandra (Diane is away in Australia at the moment), we all had a good chat (sounded as though there could have been 20 people there!!) and then Doug Wooledge took this photo of us - what a bevy of beauties I hear you say.

Thank you Frankie for leading us every month.

Do come and join us - we'd love to see you.

JUBILEE
CELEBRATIONS,

Sunday, July 29th and Wednesday, August 1st,
1928.

Souvenir Booklet.

From one of her gardening clients, Heather recently came into possession of the souvenir booklet of the Eversley Methodist Church's Jubilee Celebrations (1878 to 1928). The celebrations took place on Sunday, July 29th and Wednesday, August 1st, 1928.

In that time, the Eversley church appears to have been a part of the Sandhurst Circuit whose superintendent was based in Sandhurst Methodist on Scotland Hill. The following extract from the souvenir booklet's first chapter may therefore be of interest to our members as it covers the founding of the first Methodist Chapel in Sandhurst, and a little of the preceding history back to Charles Wesley.

Douglas and Heather Brown

“The Year of the Jubilee has Come.”
EVERSLEY,
OF THE
SANDHURST WESLEYAN CIRCUIT,

BY E. V. MELLON.

CHAPTER I.

THE STORY OF YESTERDAY.

How can one write the Methodist history of Eversley except as a sequel to the story of the rise of Methodism in the Sandhurst Circuit as a whole or further that of the Aldershot Circuit from whence we originally sprang?

In the minutes of this last-named circuit for December 29th, 1864, under the superintendence of Dr. W. H. Rule, who had primary charge of the military work at Aldershot, mention is made of a preaching place at Trunk Farm, Hawley. This appears to be the first incursion of our energetic neighbours within our borders. *

* The Rev. R. E. Brown sends me the following :- “I came across the following in John Wesley's Journal, which may be of interest. It is the only record of his having passed near Eversley.

1751-

Saturday, October 19th.

We rode leisurely on to Basingstoke and came, about two hours after sunset, to Bramsel.

Sunday, October 20th.

Farmer N-----, who had begged me to come that way upon the minister's offering me the use of his Church, informing me that his mind was changed, I rode over to Reading, preached at one and five; and on Monday, 21st, rode forward to London.”

Bramsel is undoubtedly Bramshill. As Bramshill is in the Eversley Parish, it was in all probability Eversley Parish Church which was finally closed against the founder of Methodism.

At the same meeting, however, is a more significant entry,

“This meeting thankfully receives the intelligence that Robt. Gibson, Esq, of Sandhurst Lodge has offered the gift of a piece of ground in freehold, for the erection of a Church in Sandhurst, and that measures are already taken for the assemblage of a congregation in that neighbourhood, and unanimously recommends the proposal to erect a Wesleyan place of worship at Sandhurst.”

Thus Sandhurst became a part of the Aldershot Circuit, and

“on Sunday, January 1st, 1865, the first Wesleyan congregation was assembled at Sandhurst, and now fills a barn which has been lent for its temporary accommodation. A class is formed of twelve members, and two on trial, and a good prospect of increase. It will be necessary to erect a shed to receive the congregation until a Church can be built. Money will be collected for a shed, and as much as practicable towards the new building, but, as yet, very much cannot be expected.”

Father Cox.

It was in this year that the name of David Cox "farmer of Sandhurst" appears. Mr. Cox -or Father Cox- as he was affectionately known for many years - took a leading part, notwithstanding determined opposition from the rector of the parish, in consolidating the work at Sandhurst, where his grandson, Mr. Josiah Cox, maintains the high tradition of service.

Other Worthies.

One by one, the names of other devoted workers appear, most of them employed on the building of Broadmoor Asylum. Deeply earnest men from the west country, warm-hearted, and fearless, they unceasingly gave of their scanty leisure and scantier purses. Mr. Jarvis, The Clerk of the Works, Messrs. Keith, Nash, Fry, Spear, Osbaldstone, Lyford, Franklin Johnson and Aland are particularly worthy of mention.

On September 20th, 1866, 33 members with £100 decided to build the first brick chapel of the Circuit.

The First Church.

The stone-laying took place in June, 1867. It was a great day. Sandhurst had never known the like. A procession, including many from Aldershot and Reading, headed by an amateur band, paraded the village.

Banners with such mottoes as “This is the Lord's doing : it is marvellous in our eyes”, “The friends of all, the enemies of none”, were raised aloft.

The service was conducted by the Rev. J. Webster, Rev. E. H. Tindall of Aldershot, and Rev. F. Smith of Guildford.

W. W. Pocock, Esq., laid the stone and on it placed £20. Then followed a stream of gift bringers, and the day's offerings reached £75. Promises of help, in cash and labour, were made, and a further promise of £75, when the roof was on.

The building of the Sandhurst Chapel was indeed a glorious episode and might well be told at length, but space forbids.

The first quarterly meeting held at Sandhurst was on September 25th, 1867, the Rev. Joseph Webster presiding.

This Christian Aid Week, you can be in their corner. You can help them build a home that will weather the next storm, so they won't need to fight to survive anymore.

Christian Aid Week unites kingdom builders like you from all walks of life. We step out in mission for our neighbours like Marcelin, because we believe in life before death. We believe God's kingdom is stronger than the storms.

Newsletter and website

Thanks very much to all those people who send in articles and reports and news unsolicited. You make my job much easier!

But please, if you are about to put a poster up in the foyer or noticeboards—pass it to me first.

If you've been to some event—please tell me about it afterwards.

If you're aware of a change of date or venue—let me know as soon as you can.

The newsletter is (usually) in church on the last Sunday of the month for the following month. In order to do that, I have to send it to the printer the previous Sunday, and since it takes me several days to put it together, copy date is usually the middle of the week before that. I always put the next issue's copy date in the newsletter (see the bottom of the next page) and Barbara puts it in the notices, so you will always know when I need things, although with plenty of notice and by prior arrangement, I can usually still accept things between the copy date and the Sunday evening.

The more notice people have of upcoming events, the better!

Thanks. Sue
